Rate of status offender and nonoffender detention and correctional institutionalization per 100,000 population under 18: 7.01

which can reasonably be expected to reduce the State's rate of institutionalization in the future.

1. A brief description of the non-compliant incidents must be provided which includes a statement of the circumstances surrounding the instances of noncompliance. (For example: Of 15 status offenders/nonoffenders held in juvenile detention or correctional facilities during the 12 month period for State X, 3 were accused status offenders held in jail in excess of 24 hours, 6 were accused status offenders held in detention facilities in excess of 24 hours, 2 were adjudicated status offenders held in a juvenile correctional facility, 3 were accused status offenders held in excess of 24 hours in a diagnostic evaluation facility, and 1 was an adjudicated status offender placed in a mental health facility pursuant to the court's status offenders jurisdiction.) Do not use actual names of juveniles.

2. Describe whether the instances of non-compliance were in apparent violation of State law or established executive or judicial policy. A statement should be made for each circumstance discussed in item 1 above. A copy of the pertinent/applicable law or established policy should be attached. (For example: The 3 accused status offenders were held in apparent violation of a State law which does not permit the placement of status offenders in jail under any circumstances. Attachment "X" is a copy of this law. The 6 status offenders held in juvenile detention were placed there pursuant to a disruptive behavior clause in our statute which allows status offenders to be placed in juvenile detention facilities for a period of up to 72 hours if their behavior in a shelter care facility warrants secure placement. Attachment "X" is a copy of this statute. A similar statement must be provided for each circumstance.)

Criterion C:

Criterion C is the extent to which an acceptable plan has been developed which is designed to eliminate the noncompliant incidents within a reasonable time, where the instances of noncompliance either (1) indicate a pattern or practice, or (2) appear to be consistent with State law or established executive or judicial policy, or both.

If the State determines that the instances of non-compliance (1) do not indicate a pattern or practice, and (2) are inconsistent with and in apparent violation of State law or established executive or judicial policy, then the State must explain the basis for this determination. In such case no plan would be required as part of the request for a finding of full compliance.

The following must be addressed as elements of an acceptable plan for the elimination of non-compliant incidents that will result in the modification or enforcement of state law or executive or judicial policy to ensure consistency between the State's practices and the JJDP Act deinstitutionalization requirements.

1. If the instances of non-compliance are sanctioned by or consistent with State law or executive or judicial policy, then the plan must detail a strategy to modify the law or policy to prohibit non-compliant placement so that it is consistent with the Federal deinstitutionalization requirement.

2. If the instances of non-compliance are in apparent violation of State law or established executive or judicial policy, but amount to or constitute a pattern or practice rather than isolated instances of noncompliance, the plan must detail a strategy which will be employed to rapidly identify violations and ensure the prompt enforcement of applicable State law or executive or judicial policy.
3. The plan must be targeted specifically to the agencies, courts, or facilities responsible for the placement of status offenders and nonoffenders in compliance with DSO. It must include a specific strategy to eliminate instances of non-compliance through statutory reform, changes in facility policy and procedure, modification of court policy and practice, or other appropriate means.

If OJJDP makes a finding that a State is in full compliance with de minimis exceptions based, in part, upon the submission of an acceptable plan under Criteria C above, the State will be required to include the plan as part of its current or next submitted formula grant plan as appropriate. OJJDP will measure the State's success in implementing the plan by comparison of the data in the next monitoring report indicating the extent to which non-compliant incidences have been eliminated.

Criterion B: The extent to which the instances of non-compliance were in apparent violation of State law or established executive or judicial policy.

1. A brief description of the non-complaint incidents including a statement of the circumstances surrounding the instances of non-compliance:

Of the 47 DSO non-compliant holds, 23 are a result of the flooding in the spring of 2008 that devastated the community of Cedar Rapids. This flooding destroyed Linn County's shelter care facility. After the flood waters receded the county received permission from the state licensing agency, the Iowa Department of Human Services, to temporarily operate the shelter out of an empty housing pod at the Linn County Juvenile Detention Center. The facility constructed temporary walls to separate the shelter care youth from the detention youth; however, the housing pod is still in a secure location of the facility. Due to the electronic configuration of the doors, the locks could not be removed to make it a non-secure location; thus, using the federal definition this agency would currently be classified as a secure juvenile detention center. OJJDP was aware of the effects of this flooding from the State Compliance Monitoring Audit that took place in June 2008, and the situation of the shelter care facility from an email letter sent to Linda Rosen in October 2008; please refer to the attached copy of the email letter.

Most of the youth who were placed in the shelter care were either under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court for a delinquent act, or by law enforcement as an accused delinquent offender. However, there were 23 youth placed over the course of the year that did not have a pending or adjudicated delinquent charge. All 23 of these youth were non-offenders under the jurisdiction of the family court.

There were 17 DSO non-compliant holds that were the result of four police departments operating temporary holding cells. Under the Iowa Administrative Code Chapter 201-51 it is possible for a law enforcement agency to have secure holding capacity without meeting the standards for a temporary holding facility provided a detainee is held for less than two hours and trained staff of the agency is available to respond to, render aid to, or release the detainee in the event of a life-endangering emergency. These four police departments are agencies that have been identified as having secure capacity from the state's increased on-site review of all law enforcement agencies, and collection of data from those agencies that have been identified as having secure capacity. Prior to the identification of these agencies and monitoring of the secure holds of juveniles by these agencies they were not aware of any state or federal restrictions of placing juveniles in their temporary holding cells. Now that these agencies are included in the monitoring universe as secure facilities their administration has been educated regarding the state and federal requirements to securely detain a juvenile. These agencies have changed their policies and the training of their staff regarding juveniles in their custody to ensure that they are in compliance with both the state and federal laws.

Of these 17 non-compliant holds, 11 were for underage possession of alcohol, two were for runaways and the remaining four were for non-offenders that were in temporary law enforcement custody. None of these 17 holds were in secure custody for more than six hours, and 14 were in secure custody for less than an hour.

The remaining seven DSO non-compliant holds occurred in three different juvenile detention centers. Two of these seven non-compliant holds were for out-of-state runaways, one was an in-state runaway, two were for failure to pay for fines on non-criminal traffic violations, and the remaining two were courtesy holds for the juvenile court when no specific delinquent offense could be identified, therefore they were classified as non-offenders.

2. Describe whether the instances of non-compliance were in apparent violation of State law or established executive or judicial policy:

All 47 non-compliant holds were a violation of Iowa Code 232.22; please refer to the attached copy of this code section. The 23 non-compliant holds at the juvenile shelter care facility were placed using Iowa Code 232.21, the section of the Iowa Code that defines placement in a shelter care facility, not with Iowa Code 232.22. Using 232.21 these holds were compliant; however, since the facility would be classified as a juvenile detention center under the federal definition the non-compliant holds did not meet the requirements established under Iowa Code 232.22.

Of the 17 non-compliant holds at the four police departments with temporary holding cells all were in violation of Iowa Code 232.22(3)(c). Under this section "a facility that is intended or used for the detention of adults" may only securely confine juveniles when there is an allegation that they have committed an act which if committed by an adult would be a felony, an aggravated misdemeanor assault, an aggravated misdemeanor sexual assault, operating a vehicle while intoxicated (i.e. driving under the influence), or public intoxication. Since underage possession of alcohol, running away, and being a non-offender are not included in this list of charges defined by the state as acceptable charges to securely detain a juvenile, all 17 of these non-compliant holds were also a violation of State Code.

The seven non-compliant holds at the three juvenile detention centers were likewise not in compliance with Iowa Code 232.22(1) that requires the juvenile to be on a warrant from another jurisdiction, an escapee from a juvenile correctional or penal institution, for violation of pre-adjudication release conditions of a delinquent charge, violation of dispositional release conditions, there is probable cause that the juvenile has committed a delinquent act, or as part of a dispositional order.

Criterion C: The extent to which an acceptable plan has been developed which is designed to eliminate the noncompliant incidents within a reasonable time, where the instances of noncompliance either (1) indicate a pattern or practice, or (2) appear to be consistent with State law or established executive or judicial policy, or both.

There were three “circumstances” that lead to Iowa’s current DSO rate of 7.01. The first was the operation of a shelter care facility out of an empty detention center pod due to extreme flooding conditions in the community of Cedar Rapids, the second was the identification of four police departments that are operating temporary holding cells, and the final were isolated non-compliant holds in juvenile detention centers.

1. Juvenile Shelter Care Facility

The first circumstance is not the standard operating procedure for a shelter care facility in the State of Iowa, but was the result of a natural catastrophe that devastated the second largest community in Iowa, Cedar Rapids. This community continues to recover from the damage inflicted to the city and county by extensive flooding, and is currently in the process of determining the future of the Linn County Juvenile Shelter Care Facility.

The current recommendations are to permanently close the county operated facility and let private juvenile service providers in the community expand upon the shelter care services that they provide. This proposal would close the county operated shelter care facility in early 2010. If the County Board of Supervisors accepts this recommendation the situation that is creating these non-compliant holds will be removed.

2. Police Department

The second circumstance was the identification of four police departments that are operating temporary holding cells. While it would appear that this practice of occasionally confining a juvenile have been the standard operating procedures of these facilities, these practices and policies would not be permitted under the state law. These agencies have been provided education regarding the state laws that define the conditions required to securely detain a juvenile in these temporary cells, and these agencies have made a commitment to change the policy and practice at their facilities to ensure compliance with both state and federal laws regarding the secure confinement of juveniles.

It will be the plan of the state's juvenile compliance monitor that these four facilities will be closely monitored and each will receive an on-site monitoring visit to determine their level of investment to maintain compliance with the state and federal laws.

3. Juvenile Detention Centers

The third circumstance was the seven non-compliant holds that occurred at three juvenile detention centers. These three juvenile detention centers accounted for over 1,100 secure placements during the year under review. These 7 non-compliant holds accounted for less than 1% of the holds of these facilities (0.6%). With this low of a percentage of non-compliant holds it would appear that there is no practice or policy within these centers to securely detain juveniles in a manner that is non-compliant with state and federal laws.

It will continue to be the plan of the state compliance monitor to work with all of Iowa's juvenile detention centers to eliminate non-compliant holds and continue to ensure Iowa's historically low number of DSO violations.

Numerical De Minimis: The extent that noncompliance with Jail Removal is insignificant or of slight consequence:

The plans to reduce jail removal violations and maintain compliance with the jail removal mandate of the JJDP Act involve intensified monitoring and development of alternatives. The plan continues to be effective.

In December of 1992 CJJP staff began training presentations at Iowa's Law Enforcement Academy regarding the JJDP Act mandates, relevant state statutes and jail alternatives. These trainings have grown to include presentations at the Sheriff and Deputy's Association Training, the Jail Administrator's Training, specialized trainings at county jails and the Des Moines Regional Police Academy. During 2008 and 2009 CJJP staff presented trainings to the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy's Jail School recertification classes. The CJJP staff will continue to make such presentations as requested by these professional organizations or by facilities.

CJJP also continues to work with the State Jail Inspector to identify and reduce violations. Finally, CJJP continues to work with the state legislature and juvenile justice policy makers on any proposed changes in policies and procedures relating to Iowa's participation in the JJDP Act.

Of the jail removal violations 17 of the 19 occurrences were at four police departments with temporary holding cells, which by state administrative code have a maximum holding time of two hours. Of these 17 violations all were also DSO violations, and none exceeded the six hour requirement. The administrations of these facilities have been notified of the violations and they are in the process of addressing the use of the facility for juveniles to eliminate these non-compliant holds. The remaining two jail removal violations occurred at two county jails. One of the violations was a remaining incidence that had been discovered during the previous reporting period and addressed at that time. As no additional violations were discovered during an on-site visit for this reporting period, it would appear that the facility has corrected the condition that was leading to the violations. The remaining facility does not display a pattern of disregarding either state laws or federal mandates regarding jail removal requirements.

Discussions were held with sheriffs, chiefs of police, chief deputies or jail administrators at all of these facilities to educate them why these holds were non-compliant with both state and federal laws, and how to correct the situation so that future violations are prevented.

Linda,

Here is the email that I indicated I would send you during our telephone conversation on Friday, Oct. 3rd, 2008 regarding the youth shelter in Linn county, Iowa. As you may be aware Linn county is where Cedar Rapids is located; this community was devastated by the floods that hit eastern Iowa in June of 2008. As you may recall from your visit in June about 1,300 city blocks were flooded, including most of the downtown district. During the flood the Linn County Youth Shelter was evacuated and flooded. Initially they transferred the youth to a shelter in Iowa City where the Linn county staff helped with staffing needs; however, when that facility needed to be evacuated they discharged the youth either back to their home or to other shelter facilities. Due to the devastation in the community and damage to their shelter facility they were neither able to return to the facility or find other quarters when the flood waters retreated. There was significant damage to the shelter facility that presently make it uninhabitable. Many county facilities were affected by the flood, including the county courthouse, county jail and county administrative offices. They have found temporary locations for all of these agencies and facilities; however, as they try to get the county back on its operating feet the youth shelter has not been high on the priority list.

During this time the facility received permission from the state licensing agency, Department of Human Services, to temporarily set up house in an empty pod at the Linn County Juvenile Detention Center. They have set up temporary walls to separate the shelter and detention youth that provides the shelter with its own private entrance; however, it is still a secure area and access. At the same time juvenile court and juvenile court services have been operating out of this same building. Basically it is a building designed and intended for one agency that is currently serving four agencies. They opened up this temporary youth shelter on July 21st, and I became aware of its operation at the detention center in late August. I immediately set up a meeting with the detention director, youth shelter director and the director of Linn County Youth Services.

During my meeting with the three directors and a tour of the space being used by the shelter confirmed that the shelter is in a locked/secure part of the detention center. It was expressed during this meeting that none of the directors find their current situation to be to their liking. They have formed a committee to begin discussing and planning both short term and long term solutions to the situation. This committee first met on September 25th, and I was informed that I will be kept abreast of the decisions of this committee. During our discussions it was expressed to me that they are attempting to minimize the amount of time that the youth are in the facility. The youth are basically in the facility to sleep at night, for breakfast, get ready for school, they then leave for the day to go to school, upon return they do homework, eat supper and then go back out into the community for an evening activity before returning to the facility to shower, get ready for bed and go to sleep. It was also urgently expressed that the shelter staff understand that if a youth asks to leave the facility that the staff will open the door for them and let them go.

Up through my meeting with the facility they had a total of 25 youth in their custody for a total of 28 holds (3 youth were in the shelter twice). Of those youth 17 were either adjudicated delinquent or had charges pending, and eight of the youth had no delinquent adjudications or charges pending. This accounted for 19 holds being of an adjudicated or charged youth and nine holds of status offenders or non-offenders. The facility is going to continue to provide me with data and I will continue to monitor those youth that are status offenders or non-offenders. All of these youth will be reported on our compliance monitoring report that is due in December 2009 for the time period of July 2008 - June 2009. I am not sure whether this will put Iowa out of compliance with the DSO de minimis exceptions or not; however, I felt that we should address this situation at the present time. Iowa can presently have about 38 DSO violation prior to needing to address criterions B and C of the compliance monitoring report.

I am not sure if there are any type of crisis situation exceptions that can be applied to this requirement of the Act, and I would be interested in investigating if any of these exceptions exist. Any information or help that you can provide would be most appreciated. If you have any questions please feel free to contact me at the number or email provided below.

Thank you for your time and I look forward to hearing back from you soon.

Sincerely,
Scott

232.22 PLACEMENT IN DETENTION.

1. A child shall not be placed in detention unless one of the following conditions is met:
  - a. The child is being held under warrant for another jurisdiction.
  - b. The child is an escapee from a juvenile correctional or penal institution.
  - c. There is probable cause to believe that the child has violated conditions of release imposed under section 232.44, subsection 5, paragraph "b", or section 232.52 or 232.54, and there is a substantial probability that the child will run away or otherwise be unavailable for subsequent court appearance.
  - d. There is probable cause to believe the child has committed a delinquent act, and one of the following conditions is met:
    - (1) There is a substantial probability that the child will run away or otherwise be unavailable for subsequent court appearance.
    - (2) There is a serious risk that the child if released may commit an act which would inflict serious bodily harm on the child or on another.
    - (3) There is a serious risk that the child if released may commit serious damage to the property of others.
  - e. There is probable cause to believe that the child has committed a delinquent act involving possession with intent to deliver any of the following controlled substances:
    - (1) A mixture or substance containing cocaine base, also known as crack cocaine, and if the act was committed by an adult, it would be a violation of section 124.401, subsection 1, paragraph "a", subparagraph (3), paragraph "b", subparagraph (3), or paragraph "c", subparagraph (3).
    - (2) A mixture or substance containing cocaine, its salts, optical and geometric isomers, and salts of isomers, and if the act was committed by an adult, it would be a violation of section 124.401, subsection 1, paragraph "a", subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (b), paragraph "b", subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (b), or paragraph "c", subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (b).

  - g. There is probable cause to believe that the child has committed a delinquent act which would be domestic abuse under chapter 236 or a domestic abuse assault under section 708.2A if committed by an adult.
2. If deemed appropriate by the court, an order for placement of a child in detention may include a determination that continuation of the child in the child's home is contrary to the child's welfare and that reasonable efforts as defined in section 232.57 have been made. The inclusion of such a determination shall not under any circumstances be deemed a prerequisite for entering an order pursuant to this section. However, the inclusion of such a determination, supported by the record, may assist the department in obtaining federal funding for the child's placement.

3. Except as provided in subsection 7, a child may be placed in detention as provided in this section in one of the following facilities only:
  - a. A juvenile detention home.
  - b. Any other suitable place designated by the court other than a facility under paragraph "c".
  - c. A room in a facility intended or used for the detention of adults if there is probable cause to believe that the child has committed a delinquent act which if committed by an adult would be a felony, or aggravated misdemeanor under section 708.2 or 709.11, a serious or aggravated misdemeanor under section 321J.2, or a violation of section 123.46, and if all of the following apply:
    - (1) The child is at least fourteen years of age.
    - (2) The child has shown by the child's conduct, habits, or condition that the child constitutes an immediate and serious danger to another or to the property of another, and a facility or place enumerated in paragraph "a" or "b" is unavailable, or the court determines that the child's conduct or condition endangers the safety of others in the facility.
    - (3) The facility has an adequate staff to supervise and monitor the child's activities at all times.
    - (4) The child is confined in a room entirely separated from detained adults, is confined in a manner which prohibits communication with detained adults, and is permitted to use common areas of the facility only when no contact with detained adults is possible. However, if the child is to be detained for a violation of section 123.46 or section 321J.2, placement in a facility pursuant to this paragraph shall be made only after an attempt has been made to notify the parents or legal guardians of the child and request that the parents or legal guardians take custody of the child. If the parents or legal guardians cannot be contacted, or refuse to take custody of the child, an attempt shall be made to place the child in another facility, including but not limited to a local hospital or shelter care facility. Also, a child detained for a violation of section 123.46 or section 321J.2 pursuant to this paragraph shall only be detained in a facility with adequate staff to provide continuous visual supervision of the child.
  - d. A place used for the detention of children prior to an adjudicatory hearing may also be used for the detention of a child awaiting disposition to a placement under section 232.52, subsection 2, paragraph "e" while the adjudicated child is awaiting transfer to the disposition placement.
4. A child shall not be held in a facility under subsection 3, paragraph "a" or "b" for a period in excess of twenty-four hours without an oral or written court order authorizing the detention. When the detention is authorized by an oral court order, the court shall enter a written order before the end of the next day confirming the oral order and indicating the reasons for the order.
5. A child shall not be detained in a facility under subsection 3, paragraph "c" for a period of time in excess of six hours without the oral or written order of a judge or a magistrate authorizing the detention. A judge or magistrate may authorize detention in a facility under subsection 3, paragraph "c" for a period of time in excess of six hours but less than twenty-four hours, excluding weekends and legal holidays, but only if all of the following occur or exist:

- a. The facility serves a geographic area outside a standard metropolitan statistical area as determined by the United States census bureau.
- b. The court determines that an acceptable alternative placement does not exist pursuant to criteria developed by the department of human services.
- c. The facility has been certified by the department of corrections as being capable of sight and sound separation pursuant to this section and section 356.3.
- d. The child is awaiting an initial hearing before the court pursuant to section 232.44.

The restrictions contained in this subsection relating to the detention of a child in a facility under subsection 3, paragraph "c" do not apply if the court has waived its jurisdiction over the child for the alleged commission of a felony offense pursuant to section 232.45.

6. An adult within the jurisdiction of the court under section 232.8, subsection 1, who has been placed in detention, is not bailable under chapter 811. If such an adult is detained in a room in a facility intended or used for the detention of adults, the adult shall be confined in a room entirely separated from adults not within the jurisdiction of the court under section 232.8, subsection 1.
7. If the court has waived its jurisdiction over the child for the alleged commission of a forcible felony offense pursuant to section 232.45 or 232.45A, and there is a serious risk that the child may commit an act which would inflict serious bodily harm on another person, the child may be held in the county jail, notwithstanding section 356.3. However, wherever possible the child shall be held in sight and sound separation from adult offenders. A child held in the county jail under this subsection shall have all the rights of adult postarrest or pretrial detainees.
8. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Code to the contrary, a child shall not be placed in detention for a violation of section 123.47, or for failure to comply with a dispositional order which provides for performance of community service for a violation of section 123.47.

201—51.1(356,356A) Definitions.

“Temporary holding facility” means secure holding rooms or cells administered by a law enforcement agency where detainees may be held for a limited period of time, not to exceed 24 hours, and a reasonable time thereafter to arrange for transportation to an appropriate facility. A law enforcement agency is not required to meet the standards for temporary holding facilities provided a detainee is held for less than two hours prior to transportation to an appropriate facility and a trained staff person of the agency is available to respond to, render aid to, or release the detainee in the event of a life-endangering emergency.
